

ENGL 112 Peer Review for Bao Mai

Hang Nguyen, Lixiao Yang

1. Strengths

- I like how you organize your story. It is really well-organized and how you reflect on your identity, like how you tell a story. The story really leaves a mark on who you are and what your identity is. The strength about this writing is there are enough details to be a story and enough introduction and conclusion.
- The story structure is clear, with the beginning with background introduction, and the twist is obviously made the story got better ups and downs.

2. Weaknesses

- Maybe you can try to add more vivid details.
- The story can provide more detailed information about the stories going on in different states, the current plot can be improved by adding more content in it.

3. Recommendations

- Story can be enriched by adding more details about your mindset transitions before and after and more content about the CI class where you discovered your identity.
- The conclusion can add more content related to the whole story and the diegetic gap which would vastly complete the whole plot.
